NATION OFFERING THANKSGIVING

Midlands Belted With New Wintry Punch For Holiday

By The Associated Press
The nation's midlands, hammered by a destructive snow and wind lashing, got belted with a second wintry punch of icy blasts this Thanksgiving Day.

Temperatures plummeted during the night as skies cleared over much of the snow-covered mid-continent, which counted 16 deaths in the late November storm. Hundreds of others were injured and property damage was extensive.

The snow and cold prompted thousands to put planned Thanksgiving Day travel plans into the deep freeze along with the cold turkey. It looked like a chilly holiday for the eastern two-thirds of the nation, with the most severe cold in the Plains and Rocky Mountain region.

Winds diminished from the near gale-like force which swept the region Tuesday and Wednesday. The wind-swept snow dealt a knockout blow to traffic from Colorado eastward to Minnesota.

HUNDREDS OF travelers were marooned and power and communication lines were ripped down in many parts of the storm belt. Hardest hit areas were from the mountain regions of Wyoming and Colorado through Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Minnesota.

But strong winds whipped across other parts of the mid-continent—

Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri and the Dakotas.

The cold air from the Rocky Mountains spread westward across the prairie lands and dipped into the South.

It was subzero early Thursday in sections of five states—Wyoming, Colorado, Montana, Kansas and Nebraska.

Temperatures were subfreezing in other mid-continent areas. The cold blasts hit Northern Texas. A low of 13 was reported Thursday in Amarillo, the same reading as in Rapid City, S. D. The chilly air touched into the Southland as far as Northern Florida.

U. S. Weather Bureau forecasters said temperatures will drop gradually during the day and by night over most of the Eastern states. Subfreezing readings were in prospect for most of the mid-continent.

GI Organizations Generally Approve VA's Own Changes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 — (P)—Officials of veterans organizations generally approve newly announced plans to shake up the Veterans Administration, but one has predicted further changes will be made by the Republican administration when it takes over.

Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray disclosed Wednesday that the sprawling VA was being streamlined in hopes of increasing efficiency, saving perhaps 10 million dollars a year, and giving better service to GIs.

Commander Lewis K. Gough of the American Legion said the plan seems "basically sound and if properly carried into effect will increase the efficiency of the VA's services to the nation's veterans."

Commander Marshall E. Miller of Amvets said he approved of some parts of the program.

Cicero F. Hogan, for 20 years director of claims for the Disabled American Veterans, said he believed veterans would be pleased with some of Gray's plans.

BUT GEORGE E. Ijams, national rehabilitation service director of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and himself a former assistant administrator of the VA, said he believed the Republicans, when they take power in January, will institute further changes.

Jams said that even under the new reorganization plan, VA still has "too many top-flight administrative positions."

All, however, expressed satisfaction with one decision Gray announced: There would be no elimination of regional offices.

Most of the changes are based on recommendations made in a long-secret $605,000 private survey made by a Chicago management consultant firm.

Gray made the survey public simultaneously with his announcement of reorganization.

He said he was setting up three major departments, instead of the former 12, as recommended. One will handle medical and surgical care for veterans, one will be in charge of insurance and the third will manage such benefits as claims, loan guarantees and vocational training. Each will be headed by a deputy administrator.

THURSDAY WAS no holiday for the highway crews and thousands of snow shovelers who continued to dig out from the Midwest's heaviest snowfall of the season. The falls measured more than a foot in some places, but the strong winds caused much drifting. Most trains kept moving but were running behind schedules.

Snow continued in Eastern Minnesota and parts of Michigan. There were flurries in other sections of the North-Central region.

Much of Iowa and Nebraska remained snowbound as the fresh mass of cold air moved in to add to the discomfort.

Six deaths were attributed to the storm in Nebraska. There were four in Iowa, four in Kansas, one in Oklahoma and one in Texas.

Mostly clear weather and seasonal temperatures were reported in the Pacific Coast states. Rain fell Wednesday night over Eastern New York and south as far as Maryland.

11 Czech Chiefs Facing Execution

VIENNA, Nov. 27 — (P)—A Czech Communist court sentenced 11 former leaders of Czechoslovakia's Red government to death Thursday and imposed life sentences on the other three defendants in the Prague purge trial.

Among the 11 who were named to die were Rudolph Slansky, former secretary general of the Czech Communist party and once believed to be his country's Red boss, and former Foreign Minister Vladimir Clementis.

O'Dwyer, Old Political Target, Quits As Envoy To Mexico

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 — (P)—Former Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York City, a target of congressional criticism during his 28-month career as a diplomat, is resigning as American ambassador to Mexico, effective Dec. 6.

Although O'Dwyer's appointment was blasted by some congressmen, some of whom demanded his recall, the resignation was a routine change-of-administration move.

The White House announced Wednesday that President Truman accepted the Irish-born New Yorker's resignation "with reluctance" and praised him for "a job indeed well done."

O'Dwyer became a controversial figure when a police graft scandal broke around his administration shortly after he quit his $40,000-a-year mayor's job to take the $15,000-a-year assignment as envoy to Mexico in August, 1950.

Despite critics at home, he became one of the most popular ambassadors the United States ever sent to Mexico.

HE GAVE NO hint of his future plans in his letter to Truman, and said he would not be able to disclose them until possibly late in December. First, he said, he would take a Mexican vacation with his wife.

When reporters asked about a rumor that he was retiring President Miguel Aleman of Mexico might join in some commercial enterprise, he said he had "never heard of it."

Reports last summer that the ambassador planned to become a Mexican citizen and practice law in that country were angrily denied by the New Yorker.

O'Dwyer became headline fodder when the Senate Crime Investigating Committee, headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), accused him of contributing to the growth of organized crime in New York.

14 Meet Death In Flames at Mental Hospital

Women And Girls Victims Of Tragedy At Huntington, W. Va.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Nov. 27 — (P)—Roaring flames and syrup-thick smoke killed 14 women and children Wednesday night in an old three-story building at the Huntington State Hospital, a mental institution.

Ten others, seven patients and three firemen, were hospitalized.

Flames sprang from the basement of the 56-year-old building shortly after 7 p. m. and spread rapidly through the first and second floors.

Firemen had to burn through thick wire mesh over the windows with acetylene torches to fight the blaze and rescue the near-helpless victims.

The dead ranged from 89-year-old Ada Carger of Huntington, who was burned to death, to little Lena Wentz, 11, of Cabell County, one of the five girls under 16 who smothered on the third floor. All those who died were from West Virginia.

ONLY HINT to a cause for the blaze came from a staff doctor who refused to be identified. He said some patients, against strict orders sometimes slipped down to the basement and smoked.

State officials indicated they blamed the state itself for the conditions that prevailed at the obviously antiquated structure, along with the 13 others that nestled around it on the 35-acre tract atop a hill overlooking Huntington from the southeast.

President Joe E. Burdett of the State Board of Control, which supervises the state's institutions, was brutally frank.

"I can't say I was surprised," he said. "If something isn't done it won't be the last."

And State Fire Marshal C. A. Raper said the burned building was found to be "inadequate" as to fireproofing when inspected a year ago. He said another inspection was scheduled.

Ike Relaxing After Naming 2 More Aides

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 — (P)—President-elect Dwight Eisenhower put aside the problems of state Thursday and, like any other American, sat down to a Thanksgiving turkey with his family.

He had no appointments and did not plan to visit his offices in downtown New York.

Before he left his office Wednesday for the holiday, Eisenhower announced designations of two more men for key posts.

They were William P. Rogers of Bethesda, Md., for the office of deputy attorney-general, and Arthur Vandenberg Jr. as White House secretary.

Rogers, 39, made a reputation as a special counsel for Senate committees that investigated cases involving corruption in government and disloyalty. Before that he was a member of Thomas E. Dewey's staff when Dewey was at the peak of his crime-busting career as district attorney of New York.

Vandenberg, 45, was an assistant to his father, the late Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan. He served two years with the International Basic Economic Corporation, a commercial development enterprise, 18 months of it in Brazil.

Ike has now named all but two of the nine members of his Cabinet. The secretaries of labor and commerce are not yet designated.

May God Be with You, General "Ike" Prayer, Feasts Held In Korea And Plymouth

Comparative Quiet Rules Foxholes: Pilgrim Descendants On Trek

By The Associated Press
Americans from Plymouth Rock to Korean foxholes paused this Thanksgiving Day to celebrate their nation's heritage with feasting and prayer—and hope for more joyous holidays to follow.

In Plymouth, Mass., where the Pilgrims landed 332 years ago, the community mirrored the nation-wide reunions, turkey dinners with all the fixings, traditional football rivalries and special church services.

But only at historic Plymouth is witnessed the annual trek of Pilgrim descendants up Leyden Street for a memorial service in the old burial ground.

In the bleak Korean hills, with the battle lines comparatively quiet, troops relished their turkey dinners complete from shrimp cocktail to salted nuts.

The Americans shared their holiday fare with United Nations comrades and Korean war orphans. Army chaplains of all faiths conducted services for soldiers behind the lines.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth Army commander, told the troops:

"LAST YEAR at this time we thought that peace would be here before Thanksgiving came around again. Let us thank God that we have allies to fight with us and that we have a united team in Korea."

Gen. Mark Clark, UN commander, messaged from Tokyo:

"Despite the pain and tragedy inflicted upon so many of us in this battle for humanity, we have much for which to be thankful."

In Washington, President Truman, like millions of his fellow citizens, planned to attend Thanksgiving church services, then sit down to his turkey dinner.

In New York, President-elect Eisenhower was to carve the holiday bird in his Columbia University home. Missing from that family scene was a son, Maj. John Eisenhower, stationed in Korea.

From Western Germany and other European outposts, American soldiers ate hearty holiday dinners. And with their Thanksgiving services the troops on that side of the world offered special prayers for their buddies in Korea.

In Heidelberg, Germany, U. S. Army authorities recalled many units in the field for a holiday meal in base barracks.

Big parades highlighted the holiday doings in many communities.

Blackburn Quits Recount Effort

PORTSMOUTH, Nov. 27 — (P)—There is no longer a question about Democratic Congressman James G. Polk's victory in the Nov. 4 election.

His Republican opponent, Leo Blackburn, conceded his loss Wednesday when a recount of ballots in 77 precincts added only 10 votes to his total. The two were 329 votes apart in the first official count.

Pedro's Mother Given Big Holiday By Army Privates

NORTH FT. HOOD, Tex., Nov. 27 — (P)—A frail New Mexico mother said a prayer of thanksgiving Thursday for the men of the Fourth Training Company here.

The men of the company, all on private's pay, dug deep in their pockets for nickels, dimes and dollars to finance a trip for Mrs. Refugio Gonzales to spend Thanksgiving with her son, Pvt. Pedro Lopez.

Thursday she and her 20-year-old son were special guests of the Ft. Hood soldiers.

Pedro has been in the Army only a few months, but it has been a long time for Mrs. Gonzales. It is the longest period that mother and son have been apart.

Pedro listed his occupation simply as "cotton picker" when he was called into service. But he was the sole support of his mother and tended their quarter-acre of land near Mesilla, N. M.

THURSDAY'S VISIT was made possible because Mrs. Gonzales appreciated a simple form letter mailed her by Ft. Hood officials. It bore the signature of Maj. Gen. Bruce C. Clarke, Ft. Hood commander, and said he was "pleased to inform you that your son has arrived at Ft. Hood for training with the famed First Armored Division."

The letter urged Mrs. Gonzales to write her son often and welcomed her to visit him.

Mrs. Gonzales answered immediately. She told the general she was glad her son was in good hands.

She said she had been wanting to visit Pedro since the day he left, but that was impossible since he was her only means of support.

"I don't have any help—just my God," she said.

Lopez' company heard about the letter. Without Pedro knowing about it, they began to collect spare change—then dollars, for Pedro's Thanksgiving fund.

In no time at all there was enough money to finance the trip. Then came the great moment.

Pedro was hard at work on tank at Ft. Hood when his company commander, Lt. Louis Alexander, barked a command. Pedro froze at attention—then crambled off the tank and into his mother's arms.

"Look at my mother, isn't she pretty?" Pedro said over and over again—often in Spanish so she would understand.

Going, Gong, Gone Is Tale Of Deer

MARIETTA, Nov. 27 — (P)—This is the tragic story of a yearling doe whose twinkling feet carried her faster than her big brown eyes could guide her.

The doe rang the dinner bell at the W. H. Hearn farm, seven miles east of Marietta, summoning the Hearn family to the backyard. The only trouble was, the doe rang the bell with her head during a dash across the backyard. She lay dying on the ground underneath.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 27 — (P)—State Auditor-Elect James A. Rhodes Wednesday appointed John H. Price of Columbus deputy supervisor in the bureau of inspection and supervision of public offices.

Christmas Mail To Be Enormous

Suggestions Made To Expedite Handling

Postmaster W. E. Passmore believes a word or two to the wise will help make Christmas as merry as it should be.

"The 1952 Christmas season," he said today, "is officially underway. Here at the Post Office, we have an enormous job to do. Naturally, our main concern is the delivery of all gift packages and Christmas cards by December 25."

There's about 154 million people in this country today. More than ever before. More people, more Christmas mail. This means, of course, that a helping hand from the public really is necessary.

"So it's a pleasure for me to explain what can be done. As for the Post Office, we're getting all set to do good job!"

POSTMASTER Passmore has briefed local postal employees on what to expect. He predicts this year's Christmas mail will set a new all-time record, exceeding even the 360,000 pieces of mail cancelled here in 1951.

Similar records are anticipated all over the U. S. Consequently, during the Christmas period the Post Office Department will make as many deliveries as necessary up to Christmas Day. This includes residential areas which now receive one delivery daily.

Last-minute parcels and special delivery mail will be distributed on Dec. 25 in cities and villages. But not in rural areas. All business firms are requested to withhold circular and catalogue mail, and to post their regular correspondence by 4:00 P. M. each day, during the critical month of December.

Time of mailing is especially important, and the earlier the better. The postmaster emphasized it is "everybody's business" to follow this time-table for all Christmas mailings:

Mail parcel post by Dec. 1 for Overseas; By Dec. 5 for Out-of-State; By Dec. 10 for Local Delivery.

Mail Christmas cards: By Dec. 1 for Overseas; By Dec. 15 for Out-of-State; By Dec. 18 for local delivery.

Railroad Taxes Reach $16,622,953

Railroad taxes in Fayette County last year for the support of schools covered the cost of educating 122 boys and girls, the Ohio Railroad Association reports.

Ohio Railroads in 1951 paid a total of $16,622,953 in the state, of which $9,913,534 went to the support of schools. This covered the school costs of 45,265 students, the association survey shows.

While metropolitan counties, with their railroad networks and terminals, received the largest amount in dollars, rail taxes were proportionately more vital to school systems in some of the smaller counties—such as Vinton, where $45,602 went to the schools, and Pike, which received $89,151 for that purpose.

Without the aid of railroad taxes, the association asserts, many local school districts would have faced the choice of closing their classrooms or seeking higher taxes on real estate.

two thirds of the appraised value, or $13,333.

A number of persons were there but when no bid was made, the sale was declared off.

It is expected that a reappraisal of the tract will be made in the near future and the farm again offered for sale.

Game in Ohio Very Valuable

12,000,000 Pounds Of Meat Produced

The rabbit and pheasant crop in Ohio will provide about 12 million pounds of meat for Ohio's tables if it is properly cared for, an extension specialist said today.

R. K. Davis, extension wildlife conservationist at Ohio State University, said "the brave hunter who lays uncleaned carcasses at the little woman's feet has not done his job well." The first step in good care of game meat is proper field treatment of freshly killed game.

He listed steps for hunters to follow in the field: Eviscerate as soon as possible after shooting.

This will keep undesirable flavors from tainting the meat. Bleed and cool game promptly before placing in the game bag.

GAME BROUGHT home in clean game is easy to skin and clean or pluck. Pheasants should be scalded before plucking. Baking soda will remove stray hairs from a game carcass.

All game meats should be aged for 7 to 10 days in the refrigerator to improve flavor and increase tenderness.

Davis said the key to proper cooking of game is in judging its age. Young game can be cooked by dry heat such as broiling, roasting and frying. Older game should be cooked by moist heat, such as braising, stewing or pot-roasting.

Soaking in salt water is necessary only for those carcasses which have not been properly cleaned and bled, Davis said. If game has to

Traffic Problem
Is One Of Biggest Awaiting Solution

By JOHN GOETTE

Our national traffic jam is the target of Project-Adequate Roads. Forty major organizations, in turn including 1,200 others, are joined together in PAR to fight for a highway construction program aimed at bringing the nation's road network up to date.

Thirty years ago motorized America got to work on road building with the slogan, "Get Us Out of the Mud." The results might have been currently adequate, but today they leave us in a jam which inspires PAR's slogan, "Get Us Out of the Muddle."

During the whole of 1951, says Vice President B. E. Hutchinson of the Chrysler Corporation, the total number of new roads constructed in the entire United States did not provide enough space to park all of the new cars produced that year.

The crisis of neglected highways, stressed by Vice President Albert Bradley of General Motors, grows faster than even his own expert computations.

In 1946, he estimated 45,000,000 motor vehicles by 1960. Bradley's prediction missed by 10 years—we had that number in 1950. He estimated again on 53,000,000 by 1960. This time Bradley was off by seven years. America, with 76 percent of the world's motor vehicles, has 53,000,000 in 1952.

Another source, the President's Materials Policy commission, offers as a long range estimate that by 1975 our motor vehicles will hit the 85,000,000 mark.

THAT WILL be on vehicle for each 2½ Americans over 14, compared with 1950's one for each three persons. Still the national ability to absorb automotive output continues boundless. Looking ahead only to 1953, General Motors Vice President Harlow T. Curtice expects a 6,000,000-car year, with probably 1,200,000 trucks. In future years he sees 8,000,000-car years.

Roads constructed in the building boom of the 1920's, and there has been no great boom since then, were aimed at the traffic volume of the era—not for today's higher speeds and trucks.

This is where our present muddle arises. In terms of the 1941 dollar, annual highway expenditures for 1939-41 averaged $2.5 billions. The same expenditures for 1949-51, 10 years later, were only $2.3 billions.

With a 10-year increase of 20,000,000 vehicles, more than one-half of our driving is on only 75,000 miles of city streets, and only one percent of our highway system carries 20 percent of all traffic.

Such traffic jam factors inspire PAR's campaign of alleviation designed to avoid the obvious threat of a car-minded nation becoming immobilized.

The goal of more and better roads would likewise materially reduce deaths and injuries, and bring economic savings to millions. On better roads, it will cost less per mile to run a car; fewer accidents mean fewer repair bills, lower insurance rates and lower cost for everything moving by truck.

Project-Adequate Roads, seeking for better roads on national and local levels, believes that everyone commercially or professionally concerned with traffic is aware that the time has come for such a campaign. PAR goes on the theory that the public is ahead of the politicians and engineers, with the people wanting good roads and being willing to pay for them.

Tots Say Mommy Is Only 'Asleep'

BALTIMORE, Nov. 27.—Three young children waited 15½ hours for "mommy" to wake up, while upstairs in the bedroom both parents were dead from shotgun blasts.

Police said Peter T. Lang, 32, apparently shot his wife Katherine, 29, before turning the weapon on himself.

A neighbor told police she heard shots about 11 p. m. Monday night. Tuesday afternoon a visitor dropped in and found Peter Jr., 5, John, 4, and Sharon, 2, sitting on the living room floor in their night clothes. One of the boys whispered, "Mommy's asleep upstairs."

CROP Pick-up Set for Jasper

Good Deeds Combined
With Good Times

The committee that has been selected to do the heavy work of getting Fayette County's Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) under way in Jasper Township is combining good deeds with a good time.

Tuesday night, the committee met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wipert to lay its plans for a farm-to-farm canvass. But, it turned out to be somewhat of a social event as well as the group carried on the business at hand around hot bowls of chili.

Mrs. Wipert, the CROP publicist as well as the Jasper Township chairman, had the pick-up system all laid out when the committee arrived. All that remained to be done was give committee approval and work out the details.

Briefly, the plan calls for eight or nine trucks to call at every farm in the township Tuesday. On them will be women as well as men—and some of the women said they would wield the shovels alongside the men.

WHAT THEY WANT is corn, but they will take cash if there is no corn in the crib.

They are to shovel the corn into the trucks—or put the cash in their pockets—and meet at the Dill Grain Co. Elevator at Milledgeville at 3

P. M. There they will unload the corn and turn in their cash. The corn is to be earmarked for CROP.

The purpose of CROP is to provide food for the needy and distressed people, many of them children, in war-ravaged countries overseas.

CROP is a nationwide organization that has the backing of most of the churches and clergy. Nearly all of the ministers in Fayette County are participating, either directly or through their moral support.

The goal for Jasper Township has been set at 300 bushels of corn, or the equivalent in cash.

Each of those at the Tuesday night meeting was given a map of Jasper Township with the routes to be taken by each truck marked.

JASPER TOWNSHIP is the first in the county to get its operations under way. Mrs. Wipert said the county committee set it up as early as possible so it could be used as a pattern in other townships.

Those at the meeting at the Wipert home or ready to take part were Mr. and Mrs. John Burr, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Taylor and their children, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilard Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hiser, Hugh Perrill, Miss Frances King, Maurice and Foster Kelly, Robert Cannon and Roy Palmer.

Ministers of two churches in the township are to take part in the pick-up too. They are Rev. Marvin Schumann, pastor of the Harmony, White Oak and Mt. Olive Methodist churches, and Rev. Ansel Arnold, pastor of the Milledgeville and South Solon Methodist churches. Rev. Sanford Lindsey, pastor of St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal

'Other Woman' Is Root Of Evil

LONDON, Nov. 27.—A court official says that the other woman was the root of the evil in 42 of 100 divorce cases he studied in an analysis of marriage failures.

R. A. J. Chislett, clerk to the Wallington, Surrey, justices, told of the 100 cases, which he termed typical, showed the following percentage of causes:

Another woman, 42 per cent; incompatibility, 36 per cent; money troubles, 5 per cent; sex troubles, 3 per cent; excessive drinking, 3 per cent; gambling, 2 per cent; nagging wife, 15 per cent; unknown causes, 8 per cent.

Dulles Blasted As 'Socialist' By McCormick

BOSTON, Nov. 27.—One of President-elect Dwight Eisenhower's cabinet designations has brought a blast of criticism from Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune.

Speaking Tuesday night in New Haven, Conn., before the Yale Political Union, a student group, McCormick attacked the selection of John Foster Dulles as the next secretary of state. McCormick said of him:

"Dulles belongs to the millionaire socialist crowd who would put European interest before American interests, a policy to which Eisenhower seems to have been attracted by his command of armies."

The appointment will cause trouble in the Republican party, McCormick said.

"This presages a split between Eisenhower and a large majority of Republicans," McCormick said. "How we shall go from here nobody can know."

Eisenhower's own nomination as the GOP candidate, the publisher continued, was the result of cleavages within the party. He said, "A queer assortment of millionaire socialists in the East brought about the nomination of Eisenhower by sharp practices which caused great defection."

The Chicago Tribune supported Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the GOP nomination.

Thanksgiving 1952 as Compared To First

Thanksgiving Day 1952 brings to the average person's mind many thoughts, some of which are not without worry, due to fear of war and other troubles which can arise from world conflict.

Living in a time that seems to hold a constant threat, our present generation is in a more or less state of tension. There is a yearning for security and for certainty of comfort. Perhaps, most of all, the people today are yearning for peace.

Much of this spirit of today is, in part, an outgrowth of many years of following a governmental policy which undertook to convince people that they had no cause for worry, either for their welfare or their future. As a result many persons in a whole generation gradually began to lapse into a mental dependence upon government rather than upon their own initiative and thrift.

The Pilgrim Fathers inevitably come to mind at Thanksgiving time. It was they, as every school boy knows, who gave America its most typical holiday. They returned thanks to the Creator because He had preserved them through another bleak winter in the wilderness and had blessed them with bountiful crops. Among hardships so great that many of their comrades had perished, they found being alive sufficient cause for thankfulness.

But to those of our forefathers who fought for life on New England's craggy shore, security was unknown and undreamed of. They lived in constant danger of death. Hostile Indians were an ever present threat. Bad sanitation spread ravaging diseases. Often they were hungry and malnutrition took its toll. Toil was an unremitting necessity and life's rewards were not of this world.

Americans may gain humility and courage by contrasting the lot of the Pilgrims with their own.

Today we owe thanks for the progress of our country over the past two centuries.

Our job is to know how to be thankful and to go forward to greater accomplishments.

Spanish Agreement

After seven months of negotiations and on the urgent recommendation of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the United States has concluded military and economic agreements with the government of Franco that, to all intents and purposes, make Spain a full partner in the defense of Western Europe.

Thus, under the global stresses imposed by Soviet Communist aggressions, have America's relations with Spain been altered from open, post-World War II efforts in the United Nations to bring about the downfall of the Franco dictatorship through a political and diplomatic boycott to what amounts to an alliance.

To be precise, Spain is not a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization created to resist any further Soviet incursions in Europe. In act, any suggestion that Spain be accepted in membership would undoubtedly meet with political hostility within NATO.

But the same purpose of associating Spain with Western defenses is accomplished by the bilateral agreements, outside NATO, which enable the United States to create major and secondary air bases on the Iberian Peninsula as well as to make first class naval bases of Cadiz in the Atlantic and Cartagena in the Mediterranean.

Thanksgiving, American Tradition By George Sokolsky

A nation is only as strong as its roots are deep in tradition. Ours is an old tradition, continuous in the mind of man as long as we know. It is the tradition of the goodness of man as a reflection of God's goodness.

Those who founded this country, whether in New England or Virginia or Pennsylvania or in any of what came to be known as the thirteen colonies, were profoundly influenced in their thought and action by the Bible, both the Old and the New Testaments.

And when they gathered a harvest, they joined in Thanksgiving to God whose guidance they sought.

For three hundred years and more these people from Europe have been coming to our shores ever hopeful that they would find here a life in freedom. Some had never known freedom; some had been deprived of human dignity by outrageous tyranny. For whatever reason they left their ancestral homes it was always liberty that was uppermost in their lives—freedom to live according to the patterns of their traditions.

And here they found freedom, for it has never abated in our land. Wars, a Civil War, economic depressions, wealth, poverty—men pass from one estate to another, but in the course of the vast fluctuations between good times and bad, freedom has never been worn away and the tyrant has never risen to grind the souls of men.

It is because America has never been forsaken by God. America must never forsake God.

On this Thanksgiving Day, this thought must come to us, for we have so much to be thankful for, we who live in America.

In the horrid era in which we live during which war has become almost a permanent institution, other nations, great empires, have been reduced to a secondary status and the standards of living of their people have been violently reduced.

It was said at the beginning of the Twentieth Century that the sun never set on the British Empire. That is still somewhat true, but the British Empire itself has disappeared; the Commonwealth is not the same. Nor is the French Empire what it used to be. It is now actually struggling for its life in the paddy-fields of Indo-China and the deserts of North Africa.

We Americans can be thankful that we possess no empire; we have oppressed no people; we have taken no territory; no one is in rebellion against us. Our strength is in our history. We have been helpful to all peoples who needed our help. Since we have become a nation in our own right, we have asked the help of no one. We have sent our sons to defend European and Asiatic countries; we have invited the help of no people to defend our shores.

For this we are thankful to God. For those who are aided end in resenting the aid; those who make their own way can afford to bestow their friendship freely. Perhaps that is why we remain so generous, even to former enemies and to friends who flout our friendship.

We are now entering upon a new regime. We have passed through a maze of political, economic and social experiments, most of which our people could not understand. Many of the changes have left a permanent mark upon our institutions. There have been vast alterations in human relations; from a homogeneous people capable of absorbing and assimilating all who came to our country, we have been fragmented into blocs, groups, cliques, majorities and minorities, suffering diversions according to racial, religious and occupational differences.

But we have suffered this evil. We have proved stronger than the wicked men who have served extraneous interests. We have survived all the intrigues and trickiness of the Communists, of Stalin's spies, of our own corrupted sons and daughters, of the misguided dupes who followed them.

And now we are entering upon a new regime, an American regime, to be guided by a president who will not mistake his duty to the traditions of his people.

For that, our God, we are thankful in this year, 1952. On this Thanksgiving Day, may in every home be sung or recited these words:

"Our father's God, to Thee
Author of liberty, to Thee I sing;
Long may our land be bright
With freedom's Holy light;
Protect us by Thy might,
Great God, our King!"

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Much attention these days is being given to psychosomatic diseases. These are body disorders caused by extreme mental or emotional disturbance.

In some cases, severe emotional stress has brought on physical ills that are truly amazing, such as blisters and hemorrhages. It is now thought that an inner ear disorder called Meniere's disease may also be due to psychosomatic causes.

Signs of Disease

Sudden severe seizures of dizziness, nausea, and vomiting attack the person with Meniere's disease. He grows pale, and in severe cases appears as if drunk. Between attacks, he has severe ringing in the ears, and may develop a deafness, though this is usually not permanent. Often, mild attacks may occur in which there is only some dizziness with no other symptoms.

This disease occurs in both men and women, more often between the ages of thirty and sixty years.

Attacks Are Sudden

Attacks may strike suddenly at any time of the day or night. There is no apparent cause for them, and they are not at all related to any vigorous activity the person might engage in. Between attacks, he is usually in good health.

With the onset of an attack, the person thinks all the objects in the room are revolving around him, while he has his eyes open. With his eyes closed, he feels as if he is revolving around the room. Sometimes this disturbance is so severe that the person cannot remain erect and must brace himself against something to keep from falling.

One of the most frequently advanced explanations of this disease, and the most plausible one, is that it is due to a blood vessel disorder. Changes of the blood supply to the inner ear are thought to be responsible. Emotional causes may actually bring about these blood changes, it is further believed.

Search for Cause

Recently, a group of twenty-

Middle Ear Disorder May Be Emotional

three patients with Meniere's disease was studied to see if any emotional or mental condition might be the possible cause. It was found that many of these patients had definite emotional conflicts.

Usually, the type of person was aggressive in appearance and temperament and fairly rugged. Most of those studied were extroverts with pleasant personalities.

It was found that in some early cases, psychotherapy helped in relieving the attacks and preventing the disease from lasting too long.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

E. M.: What is a tube baby and what is its cause?

Answer: A tubal pregnancy is due to the fertilized egg being caught in one of the tubes leading to the womb. This may be caused by infection, or narrowing of the tubes. Since the egg or baby-to-be cannot reach the womb it cannot mature properly and may rupture into the abdominal cavity, causing severe hemorrhage and making immediate surgery necessary.

Diesels Do Most Work
NEW YORK—P—The Association of American Railroads reports that diesel locomotives are performing some 65 percent of nation's freight service, 70 percent of passenger and 75 percent of all yard operations. Virtually every railroad in the country is striving for complete dieselization, says the railway group.

Big Oriental Hornets Problem For Israel

ROME—P—The big Oriental hornet is becoming a serious problem in little Israel. The November plant protection bulletin of the food and agriculture organization of the United Nations reports that this is because the hornet has an insatiable appetite.

It catches honey bees and often destroys 30 to 50 percent of the bees in apiaries. It eats up ripe fruit. Dates can only be saved by covering them with paper bags. Hungry hornets even gnaw the bark of young fruit trees so badly that some of them die.

The only poison bait so far that has proved highly successful is poisoned meat. With Israel's limited meat supply, this costs too much.

Tigers Beat Millers In Highscoring Game

Jeffersonville High School's basketball team racked up its first county league victory Wednesday night at Madison Mills by soundly beating the Millers, 77 to 50.

This was the second league loss suffered by the Millers, who have previously been beaten by Good Hope in a league game.

The high scoring Tigers from Jeffersonville just couldn't be stopped Wednesday night. They were making points from all over the floor. The Tigers made 33 field goals and most of them were from back of the foul line.

The first period ended with Jeff in the lead by 13 points. At the end of the first half, Jeffersonville was leading 41 to 22.

Jeffersonville piled up 22 points again during the third quarter and coasted to victory in the final period by sinking a total of 14 points.

C. Coe and Coppock were high for Jeffersonville. Coe made 8 field goals and 2 foul shots for a total of 18 points while Coppock had 7 field goals and 3 foul shots for a total of 17 points. Jacobs had a total of 15 points.

Woods and Case did most of the scoring for the Millers. Woods had 6 field goals and 3 foul shots for a total of 15 points while Case rang up a total of 14 points.

The Madison Mills Reserve team won its game by a big margin, 47 to 24.

The junior high game was won by Jeffersonville, 38 to 30. Wise had a total of 17 points in this game for Jeffersonville.

Charles Waltzes To Mitt Decision

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—(P)—Jimmy Bivins knows now. Ezzard Charles hits hard, but he says he's not the sharp puncher he used to be.

Charles, former heavyweight champion, tried to display his so-called new butchering style Wednesday night but had a hard time catching up with old Jim after the first round, but he easily won a clear-cut decision. Boos frequently echoed through vast Chicago Stadium. At times, someone would shout: "Takes two to tango!"

Sun Bowl Teams Picked

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 27.—(P)—It will be College of Pacific vs Mississippi Southern in the 18th annual Sun Bowl football game here Jan. 1.

18 Women Bowlers At Bowling Session

Mrs. Paul Pennington, Mrs. H. F. Schlue and Mrs. Robert Dempsey shared the prize pot at Wednesday morning's bowling session at Bowland when each turned in the high score for one of the three games rolled.

Mrs. Pennington topped the list of 18 bowlers with a three-game total of 379 without handicap. Mrs. Clare Louise Boren was second high with 357 and Mrs. Schlue was third with 353.

Mrs. Pennington also had the high single game when she hit 146 but Mrs. Schlue was close behind for the honors with 144.

This is the group of women who bowl every Wednesday morning. They are not organized in teams and each rolls for herself.

The most improved bowlers were listed as Mrs. Joseph Herbert, Mrs. Dempsey, Mrs. Schlue and Mrs. Dwight Coffman. Mrs. Boren is the new member of the "Triple Club" after rolling three games of 169 each, including handicap. This is a rare in bowling as a royal flush in poker. Mrs. Andrew Loudner turned in another rarity when she made the 5-7 split.

Three game scores, including handicaps for Wednesday were: Mrs. Richard Davis 433; Mrs. Byers Shaw 493; Mrs. Byron Hinton, Jr. 489; Mrs. Clara L. Boren 507.

Mrs. Dwight Coffman 499; Mrs. Dale Ward 438; Mrs. Joseph Herbert 522; Mrs. J. F. Loudner 478; Mrs. Lew Walker 445.

Miss Vicky Otis 452; Mrs. Paul Pennington 502; Mrs. Brad Johnson 481; Mrs. Robert Green 440; Mrs. Willis Coffman 438; Mrs. Bud Schlue 530; Mrs. Andrew Loudner, Jr. 487; Mrs. James Schwartz 493; Mrs. Robert Dempsey 491.

GATLINBURG, Tenn., Nov. 27.—

(P)—More than 250 hounds, largest number of entries in three years, were cast at daybreak Thursday in the 59th annual field trials of the National Foxhunters' Association.

Football Championships at Stake In Two Thanksgiving Day Games

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—(P)—Both the Ivy League and Skyline Conference have crucial games on tap Thursday and when the firing is over both the championships probably will be settled.

The Ivy League crown definitely will be decided when Penn plays Cornell in a traditional game in Philadelphia. Penn is unbeaten in the league, but has suffered three straight setbacks to outsiders.

If the Quakers win it (they're 13½-point favorites) they'll take the title with four wins and no losses. If they lose, Princeton, which has wound up its campaign, will take the crown for the third straight year.

Utah must whip an underdog Utah State if it is to pick up the marbles. If State wins and New Mexico beats the same State outfit a week hence, Utah will drop into second place.

TEXAS, already the winner of the Southwest Conference championship and host team in the Cotton Bowl, tangles with the Texas Aggies, one of the weak sisters of the loop. The Aggies have won only one league game.

The post-season rush of bowl games also breaks out in Johnson City, Tenn., when East Tennessee State College, a local school, entertains Emory and Henry in the Burley Bowl. The visitors from Emory are one-touchdown favorites.

Other games on the tip program include Colgate at Brown, Santa Clara at San Jose State, Wyoming at Denver, and Miami (O.) at Cincinnati.

Wittenberg Plans Added Housing

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 27.—(P)—Directors of Wittenberg College have authorized construction of two new dormitories and 14 houses for social groups to accommodate 700 students.

Cost of the proposed construction was not announced. Wittenberg officials said they expected enrollment to climb from the present 917 to 1,200 in five years.

Coins Of Realm Get 'New Look'

LONDON, Nov. 27.—(P)—The profile of Britain's young Queen Elizabeth II, drawn by a 71-year-old woman artist, will grace the front of new coins of the realm to be struck for the coronation year.

All the new coins of Great Britain, as well as of Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, Ceylon and Southern Rhodesia will bear the design by Mrs. Mary Gillick of Chelsea, the widow of Ernest Gillick.

Thief Returns To Church Again

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 27.—(P)—A 33-year-old electronics student who was jailed in February for stealing a tape recorder from a church is back in the toils of the law.

He is charged with stealing the same machine all over again.

It was on Feb. 14 that John E. Whitley was first arrested. The tape recorder, returned to the First Congregational Church of West Hartford, was reported missing again Oct. 28.

Backward Seating In Planes Cited

SALISBURY, England, Nov. 27.—(P)—The British Air Ministry is pointing to an airplane crash here as another proof of the added safety attached to sitting backwards in a plane.

Four crewmen—necessarily facing forward—were injured when a Royal Air Force transport collided with a jet fighter and crashed. The nine passengers, however, walked out dazed but unhurt. They were facing the rear of the plane.

88 Students On Honor Roll

Straight A Grade
Made By 39 Of Them

Thirty-nine students in the Washington C. H. junior and senior high schools finished the first six weeks grading period with a straight A average—the highest possible grade.

However, 49 others in the top six classes had grades sufficiently high to make the super honor roll with a point average of 3.6 or better.

In determining the point average, 4 points are allowed for A; 3 points for B; 2 points for C and 1 point for D. The failing grade is F.

While 88 made the super honor roll, 166 made the honor roll with point averages of from 3 to 3.5.

In the senior class, six had a straight A or 4-point average. Five of them are girls and one, Ed Korn, is a boy. The girls are Mary Lu Biehn, Mary Lou Craig, Carolyn Dray, Dianne Elliott and Shirley Hickman. This was the only class in which the boys on the super honor roll outnumbered the girls; there were nine boys and seven girls for the total of 16.

The junior class had the biggest representation on the super honor roll with 20, seven of them are boys and 13 are girls.

In the sophomore class, there were 15 girls and two boys on the list and in the freshman class, which had the smallest representation, there were four boys and four girls.

In the junior high school, 11 girls and three boys made the super honor roll in the seventh grade and 12 girls and one boy in the eighth grade.

The size of the class representation on the super honor roll was affected to some degree by the size of the class enrollments.

The complete super honor roll follows:

Praise Is Given To Wynn Rogers

Recognition Given As Badminton Player

Wynn Rogers of Arcadia, Calif., son of Rev. and Mrs. Lewis B. Rogers, 1510 North North Street, Washington C. H., has again been the subject of praise as the result of his notable play in badminton.

This time "The Badminton Gazette" devotes nearly an entire page to Rogers, including a picture of the champion player.

Following are excerpts from the article:

"It is an extraordinary fact that successful doubles players never quite receive the same amount of praise and credit for their efforts as do those who shine in singles. So it is, however, and it is not only in badminton.

"It is therefore, very timely to give a little prominence to a man who has, in recent years, in the opinion of most who have seen and studied the game internationally, acquired for himself the reputation of being the leading doubles player of the day in the whole world.

"Wynn Rogers of Arcadia, Calif., is undoubtedly the man, though his preeminence is probably not quite so marked as is that of Wong Pen Soon in the singles game. And, lest it be thought that this prominence given to him now is only a general belief, it is noteworthy that the majority of the critics in Singapore last May were the first to concede it to him on the form he displayed in the Thomas Cup ties played in that city.

"Though he won his first U. S. Championship honors when he shared the mixed doubles in 1947, it was not until he was a member of the first USA Thomas Cup team in 1948-49 that Rogers' all around brilliance was generally recognized.

"In America, Wynn Rogers has been top of the joll in the doubles game for a long time and his record shows that he has won the men's double in the American championships each of the last five years, and with three different partners, too. In mixed doubles he has been equally successful with five wins in six years, again with three different partners."

The article continues, giving Rogers praise for his remarkable ability, and his record of achievement generally in the badminton field.

New Slant Given To Old Tradition

Yule Tree Origin
In U.S. Studied

STATE COLLEGE, Pa.—(AP)—Tradition has it that Christmas trees started in Germany when Christmas missionaries chopped down trees worshipped by the pagans and made a decorated tree part of the Christian celebration.

Now Dr. Philip A. Shelley, professor and head of the department of German at Pennsylvania State College has studied the records and thinks that all Christmas tree traditions in the United States were brought here by German immigrants.

These immigrants wanted to preserve the type of Christmas they had in Germany, he says. Pictures circulated in this country from the 1830' to the 1860' show evidence of German origin, Dr. Shelley says.

One of the earliest records he has found tells how the Moravians at Bethlehem, Pa., used pyramids of green brushwood decorated with candles, apples and verses in 1747.

He thinks the Christmas tree appeared in Harrisburg, Pa., between 1818 and 1826. Philadelphia Christmas trees seem to have been started by Constantine Hering, a physician from Saxony, and Friedrich Knorr, a teacher from Prussia in 1834.

Other sources indicate that Christmas trees were first introduced in England in the 1840' by the German consort of Queen Victoria.

Farm Bureau Delegates OK 49 Resolutions

COLUMBUS, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Some 3,500 members of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation have returned home after a three-day annual conference here, content with all but one of 50 resolutions presented for their approval Wednesday.

The 34th annual meeting reelected the entire slate of federation officers and rejected only a resolution favoring inclusion of farmers in Social Security benefits.

Resolutions adopted included: Establishment of an agricultural center at Ohio State University. Payment for highway construction and maintenance on the basis of use.

Opposition to universal military training. Improvement of rural telephone service.

Approval of the present 90 per cent of parity price support program.

Reelected were President Everett F. Rittenour of Piketon and all other top officers.

Ancient Egyptian plasterers used tools quite similar to those used by modern plasterers.

Corn King On Way to Chicago For Big Show

Willard Kirk Is Not Expecting First
Again This Year

Willard Kirk, Jefferson Township farmer, the man who last year won the title of corn king of the world by taking first honors at the International Livestock and Grain Exposition in Chicago, left Thursday morning to again exhibit in the world's greatest agricultural show.

However Kirk is not expecting to carry off top honors this year. The drought, he said, had reduced the size of his corn. The quality is all there but the smaller size of the ears probably will keep him out of first place, so he is not expecting to repeat last year's success.

Kirk will exhibit in white, yellow, shelled corn, oats and soybeans.

Also going to the show from Jefferson Township, is Gilbert Coil, who last year carried off second honors in region 8, so that he, too, was one of the big winners in the show.

Coil and his son, Kirk, will display 10 ears each of white, yellow, shelled corn and soybeans.

So far as known no other Fayette County corn growers will have exhibits in the International show. A short time ago Kirk lost some valuable exhibits of corn when he shipped a consignment to the Royal Show in Toronto, Canada, and then went to the show to look after his exhibits. The corn never reached the show and has not yet been located.

Fortunately the corn sent to Toronto was not the best Kirk had to exhibit.
